5) I am lying in my bed side, with the candle in my hand, looking at the pictures on the wall. I am thinking of the past, of the friends who are no more. I am thinking of the future, of the life to come. I am thinking of the love of God, and the love of my fellow men. I am thinking of the joy of heaven, and the sorrow of hell. I am thinking of the power of God, and the weakness of man. I am thinking of the mystery of life, and the mystery of death. I am thinking of the glory of the saints, and the shame of the sinners. I am thinking of the triumph of the righteous, and the defeat of the wicked. I am thinking of the kingdom of God, and the earth which is the seed of it. I am thinking of the peace of God, and the trouble of the world. I am thinking of the light of God, and the darkness of the night. I am thinking of the life of God, and the death of the flesh. I am thinking of the love of God, and the love of the world.
The Father & Mother are in my heart, and I am in their love.
